

Insurance Premium Funding

The stress-free way to pay your premiums

Have you ever considered how paying for things a little at a time makes life easier?

Paying your annual insurance premium in instalments certainly eases the stress on your cash flow and frees up your funds for other purposes.

In business, cash flow is critical for survival, and it is no different when it comes to your personal finances.

The prospect of paying an annual insurance premium in one hit can be daunting, particularly if it coincides with other bills or big expenses.

Credit Corporation offers a premium funding option that makes life easier and helps to ensure you won't feel the pinch when it comes to paying your insurance.
